

RESETTLEMENT AND REHABILITATION POLICY

AUGUST 2000

Preamble

1. The location and quality of coal reserves, and their distance from major consumers determine to a great extent the selection of mine sites. For reserves that are close to the surface, open cast mining has proven to be the most efficient mining method. While relatively inexpensive, open cast mines require large areas of land. Population growth, particularly in India's Eastern region, make it increasingly difficult for the subsidiary coal companies (Subsidiaries) to acquire the land they need for expanding their operations.

2. In the past, subsidiaries found it relatively easy to acquire land, if they were able to offer jobs. Partly because of this practice, subsidiaries have built up their labour force beyond their needs. This has contributed to the heavy losses. Many mines incur and erode the competitiveness of the coal industry. The subsidiaries may still need to hire people in selected locations and continue to give preference to those whose livelihood will be affected by coal mining operations. However, increasingly subsidiaries will need to develop other ways and means to compensate land owners and others adversely affected by their projects. Only proper resettlement and rehabilitation will elicit the cooperation of project affected people and make it possible to Coal India to acquire the land it needs.

3. The Purpose of this statement is to set out the basic principles for the resettlement and rehabilitation of people affected by coal mining projects (PAPs). As such, this statement attempts to stream line the different resettlement and rehabilitation practices that are being followed by subsidiaries and to modify them in a way that allows subsidiaries to deal more effectively with resettlement and rehabilitation issues.

4. While Coal India's basic philosophy for compensating land losers and other project affected people remains substantially unchanged, the statement emphasizes the need to cultivate and maintain good relationship with the people affected by Coal India's projects starting as early as possible, it also underscores that the subsidiaries have a responsibility towards the land less, whose livelihood is often taken away. On the other hand, subsidiaries need to protect themselves more effectively against unjustified claims. To this end, the statement proposes that subsidiaries prepare detailed resettlement and rehabilitation action plans (RAPs) that clearly identify, at an early stage, the entailments of peoples affected by the coal projects.

5. The resettlement and rehabilitation policies followed by the subsidiaries have evolved over time and undergone numerous changes in response to changing circumstances. As and when the Central or State Govt. issue new guidelines for resettlement and rehabilitation, Coal India will review and modify its resettlement and rehabilitation policy taking in to account the changing conditions in coal producing areas. However, as a matter of principle, the compensation and benefit offered to the people affected by coal projects of Coal India will be at least equal to and not less than those prescribed by the laws and guidelines of the Central and State Govt. However, in any case Coal India's resettlement and rehabilitation policy has to be approved by the Ministry of Coal.

Objectives of Coal India's resettlement and rehabilitation policy

6. In the light of the growing difficulties many subsidiaries face in land acquisition, highest priority will be given to avoiding or minimizing disturbance of the local population. In their decision to open new mines or expand existing one, subsidiaries will explore alternative sites and project designs in order to minimize the need for resettlement. Wherever people are likely to adversely affected by a project, subsidiaries will prepare resettlement and rehabilitation action plans for the projects.
7. Through the preparation of resettlement and rehabilitation action plans subsidiary will safe guard that project affected people improve or atleast regain, their former standard of living and earning capacity after a reasonable transition period. The transition period to be kept to a minimum. However the involvement of subsidiaries in resettlement and rehabilitation activities will continue until all the actions specified in the rehabilitation plan have been completed.
8. Involuntary resettlement is conceived and executed as a development programme with project affected people being provided sufficient resources and opportunity to share in a project's benefits. The efforts of subsidiaries are complementary to Govt. schemes in rural development. To the extent that this is necessary, the concurrence, approvals and support from concerned Govt. authorities will be sought. In parallel subsidiaries will work closely with non governmental organization, which are legally recognized and constituted and also have the confidence of the project affected people in the preparation and implementation of rehabilitation plans.

Definition of Project Affected Persons(PAPs)

9. Coal India recognizes that the acquisition of land in populated areas for mining purposes greatly affects lives and livelihood of local population. While the development of new mines brings along job opportunities with the subsidiaries, associated contractors and ancillary industries, it also eliminates many traditional sources of income. The rehabilitation efforts of the subsidiaries are designed to integrate the various groups of people affected by the project in to the regional development process. The development of a new mine or expansion of mining activities tends to accelerate this process. By informing the potentially affected people, at the earliest possible stage, about the project and options for resettlement and rehabilitation, subsidiaries prepare the local population for the changes that are to come and ease the transition to new life styles.

Rehabilitation Efforts

- During the six year operation of CIL's earlier R &R policy enunciated in 1994 it has been CIL's experience that the dependence of EPAPs on CIL for mine jobs continues unabated irrespective of land being surrendered. This pressure on job is further aggravated due to different minimum requirement of land being surrendered for provision of job. This makes possession of acquired land very difficult and projects get held up. This waiting for mine jobs also kills whatever little drive or initiative EPAPs possess.

13. To mitigate if not eliminate EPAPs' dependence on CIL for provision of mine job a provision of monetary compensation additional to the value of land has been conceived to be offered to those EPAPs who forego any claim – perceived or otherwise – on mine job. Besides, as a policy, mine job would be offered only in exceptional circumstances with the approval of subsidiaries' Board and EPAPs getting jobs under such circumstances would not get such additional monetary compensation in lieu of employment.
14. An EPAP choosing this option i.e. additional monetary compensation in lieu of employment or getting employment in exceptional circumstances will not be entitled to any other benefit.
15. Jobs with contractors/Non farm self employment :- This provision is open to only those who are sharecroppers, land looses, tenants, day labourers or landless tribals.
16. Resettlement Benefits :- Compensation for homestead whether in the category of land owner or landless category is same and through a recent modification one time lump sum payment in lieu of (I) Alternate house site measuring 100 sq.m. per family, (ii) assistance in designing the new house if so desired by the displaced family and (iii) Shifting allowance to cover full cost of transporting PAPs belonging to relocation site has now been conceived and provided as an alternative.

Women

17. Special attempts will be made to ensure that women will be given adequate access to income generating opportunities offered under this policy.

Community Facilities

18. The subsidiary will provide to the resettlement site a school, road with street light, pucca drain, pond, dug well and/or tube well for drinking water supply, community center, place of worship, dispensary, grazing land for cattle and play ground. Similar Infrastructural facility, if necessary, will be extended to the host locality. The community facilities and services would be available to all residents of the area, including PAPs and the host population.
19. The approach for operation of community facilities would be flexible and all efforts will be made to involve the State and local self Government/Panchayat for operating the facilities. To achieve this, subsidiaries will pursue with these agencies to ensure the same. The planning of the community facilities and their construction should be undertaken in consultation with the effected community.

Implementation, Monitoring and Evaluation, Dispute Mechanism.

20. The rehabilitation action plan will address the following :-
 - a. The project design, including an analysis of alternative designs aimed at avoiding or minimizing resettlement;
 - b. Socio-economic survey and activities to ensure restoration of incomes of PAPs in line with Coal India's resettlement and rehabilitation policy;
 - c. Description of the institutional and other mechanisms for provision of entitlements;
 - d. Time table for the acquisition and preparation of the resettlement site(s);
 - e. The cost and budgets for the resettlement and rehabilitation of PAPs;
 - f. Project specific arrangements to deal with grievances of PAPs; and
 - g. Time tables, benchmarks and arrangements for monitoring the resettlement and rehabilitation effort.

Socio-Economic Survey

21. A baseline socioeconomic survey will be carried out to identify the PAPs to ensure restoration of incomes of PAPs in line with Coal India's Resettlement and Rehabilitation Policy. This survey will be conducted, within two months of notification under the relevant land acquisition Acts, by the subsidiaries with the help of reputed outside independent institutional agencies, who are well versed with the social matrix of the area.
22. The basic objective of the socioeconomic study will be to generate baseline data on the social and economic status of the population who are likely to lose their means of livelihood or homestead due to the acquisition of the land for the project. The data base will be used to formulate a viable and practical RAP for the affected persons in line with their entitlements.

Schedule of the Census and Formulation of the Resettlement and Rehabilitation Action Plan (RAP)

23. Once the demographic and socioeconomic data is available, the RP will be formulated in consultation with the PAPs and the State Government. The RAP will be formulated as a simultaneous activity with the land acquisition process.

Monitoring and Evaluation

24. The RAP will be monitored and evaluated periodically after the completion of the land acquisition process.
 - a. The resettlement and rehabilitation activities are the responsibility of a separate group, both at the projects and corporate level, which will be constituted for planning, implementation, monitoring and evaluation of the RAP. At the corporate level the group will be headed by a senior manager, whereas at the project, an executive of the rank of manager will head the group. The project group should have a least one member with social science experience and/or skills.
 - b. The project group will closely interact with the state authorities during the implementation of the RAP. Although the subsidiaries will develop the plots land Infrastructure facilities in the resettlement colony and actively implement the RAP, assistance of State authorities will be taken for administrative services such as allotment of land. Implementation will be planned, monitored and corrective measures will be incorporated in the RAP, if needed. In addition to the State Government, the PAPs, the village leaders including the Pradhans and NGOs will be consulted and associated with the implementation of the RAP.
 - c. The Resettlement and Rehabilitation Cell at the corporate level will evaluate the implementation of the RAP after its completion.

Mechanism for dealing with disputes

25. A committee comprising nominee(s) of the State Government, nominee(s) of the project general manager of the subsidiaries, a representative of the PAP and an independent party, such as a respected community leader, a retired judge or principal of a reputed local institution of higher education, will be constituted to examine the grievances of the PAP and propose corrective actions as required. The subsidiaries will make arrangements for establishing the Committee and bear the cost.
